

PUBLICITY LIST

Here is a list of local publications and media outlets you may like to use to publicise your exhibition at The Crypt.

Regarding the two Facebook groups, you will have to 'join' and comply with their regulations in order to post anything about your exhibition but it is a good way to communicate directly with the local community.

You can send information about your event free of charge to all the other outlets by either filling out an event form on their website or emailing a press release with details of your exhibition plus any additional descriptions and explanations you wish to include. Please note that there is no guarantee that any publication will use all or any of the information in a press release; it is at the discretion of the editor of the publication or producer of the programme .

If you would like a guarantee that your exhibition will be featured in a publication or on the media, then you will have to pay for advertising.
